The symphony of high school – the dynamic, creative, and abstractly musical progression through adolescence – begins Freshman Year. Despite the exciting ensemble of peers around us, our first few intimidating days at North Attleborough High School make us feel as though we sing a cappella.

Sometimes, it seems like only freshman sing the blues and seniors are all rock & roll. Nevertheless, the new experience and unity of high school allow former Junior High strangers to strike a chord and plant the seeds of companionship. Before long, we acclimate to the new rhythm of life and begin composition on our finest and most profound concerto.

DRAMA OR G.Q.? Chuck Lafond and Bill Fleming are discussing the talent portion of the Mr. NAHS pageant.

The tempo picks up and so do our course loads: Junior Year arrives. After finding our own sense of harmony through freshman and sophomore years, we are rather startled by the somewhat dissonant crescendo that presently assails us. As the pitch of academics, athletics, music, and dramatic approaches a deafening forte, the first traces of the college search process also manage to infiltrate the lyrics of our high school lives. Luckily, our junior prom at the Westin soothes the overwhelming tone of the school year and affords us a calmer cadence. One singular fixation, however, keeps us on the beat - the thought of all that wonderful jazz that awaits us at next year's graduation.

Senior year began with an accent and continued faster than speed metal. Our lives all halted in shock and then deepened in complexity, however, as everyone tried to understand and recover from the attacks of September 11. As we struggled to regain our rhythm, college applications loomed, more ominous than the high note at the end of Loving You and nearly as scary. Midterms arrived in what seemed like only days, and we waited for college acceptances for what felt as long a time as Guns 'n Roses has taken to release a new album. We prepared to leave high school for the work force, the military, or college, each of us contributing unique interpretation of our high school experience, prepared to mount our own stages and to sing our own songs.

Class of 2002 History

Due to the changing of administration much of the school's paper work was lost, including notes of our class history. Thankfully our class has a great memory. So let us share our history as we remember it.

Freshman Year

A typical class enters freshman year as itty-bitty freshman, crawling around like rug-rats. Much like the freshman class this year. But not the class of 2002. In September 1998 we strutted our stuff into the high school bound for greatness, which we quickly proved when the seniors bowed down and gave up their hallway.

Before we knew it we held our first class elections appointing Tim Stuart as president, Caitlin VanDeGiesen as Vice President, Caitlin Thompson as secretary, and Adrienne Acosta as treasurer. Quickly we began to prepare for homecoming, constructing an amazing float which easily won first place. Our class shredded a pant-load of confetti and we cheered our heads off at the homecoming rally and as usual won the spirit competition. Our class voted Meg Sawyer, Caitlin Thompson, John Sullivan and Tim Stuart to the homecoming court.

Next came the Freshman-Sophomore social. Because our class is insanely talented, athletic, creative and, lets face it, really, really ridiculously good-looking all the upperclassmen were on their knees begging for us to take them to our social. The social was a blast and marked the last year the social was held in the high school cafeteria.

The extremely amazing class of 2002 left their freshman year confident they would with out a doubt be the greatest, most powerful and successful class to ever step foot in North Attleboro High School.

Sophomore Year

When we returned to the high school the next year as sophomores, we were ready to continue our run as the best class ever to enter North Attleboro High School. To guide the class through an exceptional sophomore year the class elected Prez Tim Stuart, VP Caitlin VanDeGiesen, Secretary Caitlin Thompson, and Treasurer Pete Millin.

In their illustrious sophomore year the class started it off by completing a dazzling float and repeated with a first place finish again. The spirit rally was a breeze for this exceptional class. No one could compete with our storm of confetti and thunderous cheers winning first place again. We chose Meg Sawyer, Caitlin Thompson, John Sullivan, and Tim Stuart to represent our class on the homecoming court.

Breaking new ground, our class moved the location of the Freshman-Sophomore social from the old High School cafeteria to the brand-spanking new middle school cafetorium. On this night the sophomores shook their booties and showed everyone how it's done.

As the year came to an end, our incredible class who already ran the school realized we were well equipped, and ready to return next year as upperclassmen.

Junior Year

Although the class of 2002 was the powerhouse of the school, junior year we finally gained the title of upperclassmen. With this title, nothing could withstand the power of the almighty class of 2002. Mr. Whitty and Mr. Pickering, well aware of our class's power, decided to make this their last year, in fear of being overthrown.

We started the year off re-electing Tim Stuart as President, Caitlin VanDeGiesen as Vice President, Caitlin Thompson as Secretary and, Cheryl Wanless crashed her way into the position of Treasurer. Homecoming came again and we created a "Raid the Hornets" theme float. Tragically, a windstorm struck along with telephone wires, destroying our float. But not even mother nature can stop the class of 2002, who three-peated with yet again another first place float. At the homecoming rally it was even more apparent we were unstoppable, embarrassing all the other classes whose spirit is unmentionable compared to ours. The class elected Meg Sawyer, Caitlin Thompson, John Sullivan, and Tim Stuart to the homecoming court.

Soon the girls in our class were busy running beasts preparing to dominate the senior class in the annual Powder Puff Football Game. After 1 week of tough practices led by coaches Joe Donovan Kyle Edwards and John Sullivan the juniors were ready to tear it up. Without even breaking a sweat, the girls of 2002 were pile-driving the senior girls into the ground. In a matter of seconds the game was ours. Although we are incredibly good at everything, we don't let it go to our heads. Proving the class of 2002 is also nice; out of pity we decided to give the victory to the seniors. After all, they did lose everything else to us, such as float competitions, girlfriends and boyfriends, and spirit rallies.

This year, through our class's dedication we were able to raise the most money any class has ever made by their junior year. This money helped us have an unforgettable prom held at Providence's Westin Hotel. We danced the night away to Bon Jovi's "Always," which in a way describes our class. We are ALWAYS the best. After hours of dancing and elegant dining Caitlin Thompson and Tim Stuart were crowned Queen and King.

Before we knew it, junior year was over and soon the empire of NAHS would be completely in our control.

Senior Year

After 3 awesome years, the final year had arrived. The class of 2002 was now seniors, with brand new administration. Surprisingly the administration you see before you is not the administration placed in power originally. Our class overthrew that administration and we placed Mr. Gay, Mr. Barrett, and Mr. Walsh as puppet administrators to tame the little freshman who are running around in diapers.

While the new administration dealt with the little numskulls, the class of 2002 was busy dominating all other school affairs. The senior class re-elected Tim Start, Caitlin VanDeGiesen, Caitlin Thompson, and Cheryl Wanless as the officers for their new empire.

The year began with senior class showing the all other classes who their daddy was, by winning not one but two spirit rally competitions in a single year. This success was followed up by a titillating powder puff football performance, where the senior sharks chewed apart the weak junior jets. The seniors pulled out all stops in this game, putting in foreign exchange student Michelle Bussiere. Wow was she masculine looking or what? The success of the girls was expected after coaches led the sharks through grueling practices and mandatory team lift sessions.

With three "Ws" under their belt already it was time to construct the biggest, the baddest, the flyest mamajamma of a float ever seen. And we did it, with the our float theme "KP just another walk in the park." For the first year the voting of the floats rested in the hands of the public. This year money counted as votes. But the junior class seemed to have misunderstood, they went around asking people for money to make their float look as good as ours. The public saw they had a long ways to go and coughed up big bills left and right. Its all right we'll give this one to them, after all we win everything else.

Senior Erin Pelletier established a great new senior fund-raiser, a beauty competition of sorts, Mr. NAHS. All involved had a great time. The three finalists of the competition were Tommy "best biceps" Pirri, Pop-Queen Ryan Rose, and Tim Stuart the politician.

Before we knew it the senior Prom was here. The class chose to hold it at Cranston's Rhodes on the Pawtuxet. Once word was out where the class of 2002 was having their prom, the junior class who idolizes us decided to emulate us and have their prom at Rhodes. Breaking new ground our class changed the system of voting for the prom court. For the first time ever the wait staff chose the court, selecting funnyman Matt Bussiere and artist Kirsti Intameri-Kinter as King and Queen. The two danced merrily to the prom's theme song "Here's to the Night."

Now that the year is over let's recap:

Our class won the float competition 3 times, spirit competition a whopping 5 times, Powder Puff one time, raised more money than any other class, had our prom at original places twice and took total control of the school.

According to my calculations there is no way the junior class will be 1/1,269,416 the class we were. The sophomores might be 1/2 as good as us if they pass MCAS. And the freshman will be 3/4 as successful as us once they learn to tie their shoes.

On a more serious note, as we graduate on Sunday we leave confident that we left our mark in North History. Without a doubt everyone in our class will continue to succeed in all future endeavors. Thank you to the new administration for an unforgettable senior year. We are sure you will continue to inspire all other classes to reach our greatness.

GO FRESHMEN! This group of girls tries their hardest to win the float competition.

Underclassmen are much like the music industry-the alternative, rock, punk, rap, blues, and classical students of the future. While freshmen are trying to keep up with the newfound rhythm of high school, sophomores remain at a steady beat and juniors are ready for a new tune next year. The diversity of the orchestra of underclassmen is soulfully remarkable. Each class continues to excel in academics, athletics, arts, drama, music, etc. They have exceeded the typical steady beat to form an outstanding symphony that is greatly appreciated.

Born to Be Wild

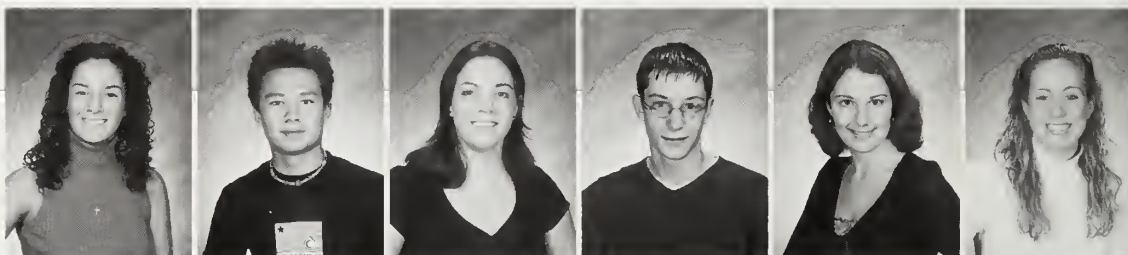

Our Junior class grew closer together this year as we displayed great school spirit and friendliness while having a great time. We worked our hardest in the annual homecoming float competition and earned first place. The smashing victory earned hundreds of dollars for the local Christmas is for Kids charity. Also, the Junior Prom lived up to the officers' promise of being a "romantic night to remember" at the Rhodes on the Pawtuxet, a beautiful venue. The class of 2003 has been a great role model to the underclassmen. We will continue to strive to reach our goals as we succeed academically, athletically, and artistically.

"Wish You Were Here"

By The Junior Class Officers: Bobby Phillips, Jessica Demers, Tara Rose, and Lindsay Colvin

This year's Junior Prom, held at the Rhodes on the Pawtuxet, proved to be an unforgettable evening. With Pink Floyd's "Wish You Were Here" as the theme song, the class of 2003 danced the night away. Jamie Martin and Jessica Demers were elected prom king and queen. With exceptional food and a romantic atmosphere, the Junior Prom became one of the highlights of our school year.

REMEMBER ME THIS WAY Bobby Phillips and Cassandra Osborne will never forget this prom.

DANCING QUEEN Queen Jessica Demers and King Jamie Martin are having the time of their lives.

THIS IS THE TIME Tayla Dumoulin, Ashley Trimbach, Kara Shumila, Katie Parlee, and Katelyn Emerson will remember this time because it will not last forever.

WE ARE FAMILY Jackie Libby, Corinne Magno, Kayla Hagan, Courtney Smith, Lindsay Colvin, Kate Cavalieri, Greg Korbas, Anthony Riccio, Garrett Vandette, Bobby Phillips, Brent England, and Scott Landry make up the prom court with Jamie Martin and Jessica Demers as the King and Queen.

DANCE WITH ME John Nicholas and Kaila Medeiros have still got a little more time to rock.

FOREVER YOUNG Ricky Ottaviano and Maria Vasconcellos take some time out from dancing.

YOU'RE MY BEST FRIEND Kim Wyn, Andrea Scholfield, Sara Mezzadri, and Kristen Stebenne are friends 'til the end.

WALK THIS WAY Krystal Patterson shows Chris DeForest how to move on the dance floor.

Unbelievable

As the sophomores started the year off, they had high hopes for doing well on the float and the Freshmen/Sophomore Social. The Float came first. Many kids helped create and construct it. Our intentions were to beat last year's float contest in which we won second place. Due to many uncalled events, such as stealing and hiding our float, we were not able to win this year.

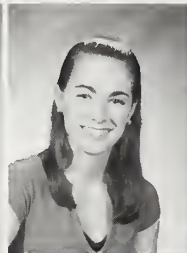

After the float, we had to focus on the social. We had asked Jam'n 94.5 to host it. They agreed and the social was a success as well as a night to remember.

GETTIN' JIGGY WIT IT

By Ryan VanDeGeisen

November 30, 2001 was the date the Freshmen/Sophomore Social was held with "United We Dance" as the appropriate theme for this year's event. The crowd was rocking with the musical excitement generated by Jam'n 94.5, our D.J.s for the evening. This is always a special night for all who attend, with great music, dancing, and socializing. Our advisors, Mrs. Ensign and Mr. Jutras, helped in the planning of the social and kept the refreshments going. Everyone agreed that it was a night to remember.

WHEREVER,WHENEVER Matt Cruz and Krista Mitchell hold on tight forever.

I'LL STAND BY YOU Ryan Carrion will stand by Bethany Alix even in her darkest hours.

HANGIN' TOUGH Studs Richland Rim, John Hall, Nick Caponigro, Brian Huyler, and Paul Cavalieri aren't new kids on the block.

VOGUE Chris Howard and Kellyn Kearney strike a pose.

GIRLS JUST WANT TO HAVE FUN Jen McNamara, Leah Seward, Amanda Walkins, Heather Lopes, and Nicole LaFratta just want to have fun.

RUMPSHAKERS Matt Bettencurr and Erin Pesce want to shake their "bootie."

WILD THINGS Ben Lamothe and Alex Cekala make everything groovy.

I'VE HAD THE TIME OF MY LIFE Erica MacDonald and Andy McAlarney have never felt this way before.

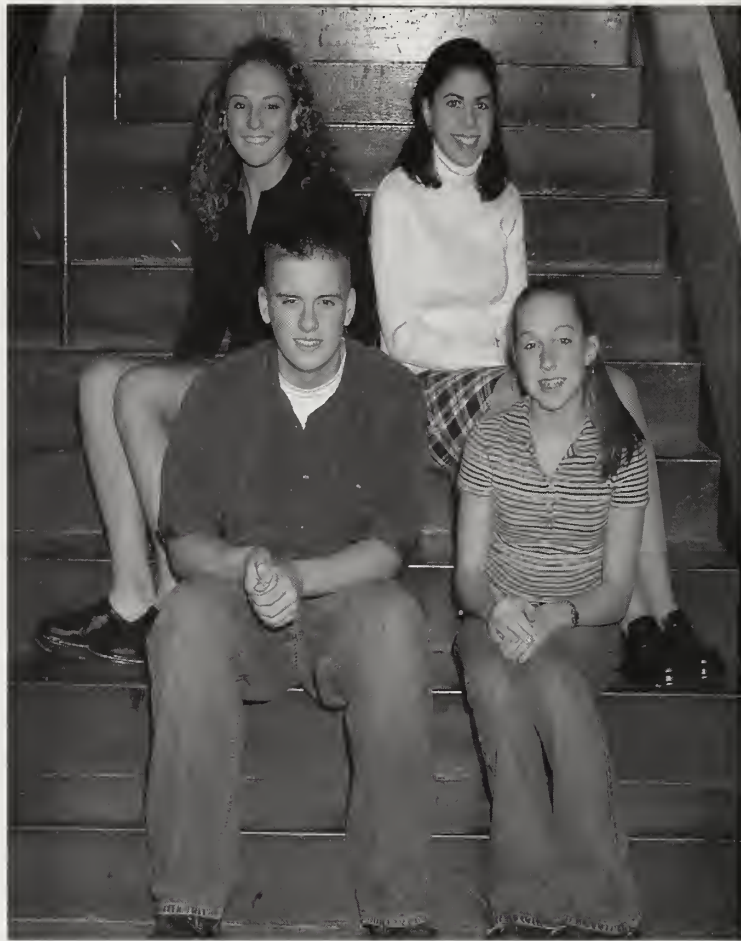

We've Only Just Begun

Our Freshmen year has gone by quickly. To me, the first three months were a blur. When November rolled around, it was time to organize the Freshmen float. In remembrance of September 11th, we decided to show our patriotism in our float. I would like to thank all of the Freshmen who got involved in it.

The next major event was the Freshmen/Sophomore social. We had a great night with about 615 students that showed up all dressed up and ready to have fun. As the night went on, so did the dancing. I would like to thank all Freshmen and Sophomore officers for their hard work. This has been a great Freshman year, however, it is just the beginning.

Simply the Best

By Kathleen Donnelly and Shelby Ganci

The North Attleboro Field Hockey team had a tough season, but in the process, we learned many important lessons. We found that staying together as a team was crucial when going through the worst times. The varsity was led by Coach Quinn, junior varsity Coach Fisher, and freshman Coach Goyette. Their assistance and leadership made an everlasting impression on our motivation and determination to succeed. Although our record reflected many losses, the field hockey team feels as though we really won in spirit and unity. The spirit of this year's team was unbelievable. From 80's day to wearing skirts to school, our memories will always be cherished. Mudslides, dance parties, sleepovers, long runs, and making signs for our "buddies" kept the season exciting and enjoyable. We would like to say thank you to the freshman, JV, the fans, and the parents for their unconditional support as it was greatly appreciated. This year's seniors wish next year's team, under the leadership of Lindsay McKearney and Lindsay Colvin, the best of luck. We know that with such an experienced team and talented underclassmen, you will definitely succeed. The team's abiding quote, "Sticks in a bundle are unbreakable," will continue to follow our hearts throughout the years to come.

Hit Me With Your Best Shot

By Jocelyn Ormerod

The season started off with a great victory against King Philip. Our next game was a devastating loss against the arch rival Oliver Ames. Although the beginning of the season was shaky we improved our season by winning tough battles, and team sleepovers. With the loss of six seniors, North Attleboro was considered the underdog of the Hockomock, but we pulled together as a team to finish 4th in the league. The senior class would also be the first class in the history of girls' soccer to make the tournament for four consecutive years. Although the team made it to the tournament, our skills and abilities were matched and beaten by the Sandwich Knights. The season had come to an end that night with a 3-0 loss. This season, the North Attleboro girls gave a great effort and next year's team will keep the tradition alive.

We Won't Back Down

By Joe Dunn

The 2001 Boys' Soccer Team opened its season with high hopes and confidence under the leadership of senior co-captains Joe Dunn and Jay Fuller along with 2nd-year Head Coach Mike Dunn. North faced the challenge of overcoming the loss of several vital starters from the previous year. The team, nonetheless, went into the season with a positive mind. Joe Dunn led the team in goals scored while Jay Fuller, Michael Close, Tyler McNally, David O'Brien and Eric Clark organized the defensive group into a strong unit. Furthermore, Jamie LeBlanc, Eric Higgins, Jamie Moynihan, Jon Alves, and Taylor Mechliniski were all strong threats in the midfield. Kevin Dailey, Greg Korbass, Matt Neale and Rhys Stover were all invaluable contributors as forwards. The squad also benefited greatly from the tremendous play out of freshman goalie Alex Cekala.

North had some very promising games during its season. Among them were two very big games against Stoughton in which North completely dominated. North dealt a crushing defeat to Canton where it won under the lights 4-1. North also played very well in a win against non-league rival Bishop Feehan.

In only his 2nd year as varsity coach, Mike Dunn instilled a tremendous work ethic and attitude into his players. Teaching them that both conditioning and keeping a positive outlook throughout the season will prove to better the team's playing. This work ethic translated onto the field, where the team often outran and outworked the opposition. Next year looks extremely promising. Led by captains Kevin Dailey and Jamie Moynihan, North will be among the favorites to step up to the challenge and bring home a Hockomock League championship.

TIMBER!!! Senior Joe Dunn takes a dive after heading the ball.

Going the Distance

By Jay Dion

The 2001 Boys Cross Country Team had its ups and downs this year. Starting the season off right with an unbeaten record, the team stumbled as the season progressed. Finishing at a 4-5 record overall and 4-4 in the Hockomock League, the team has set the groundwork for a strong season next year. This year's captains, Jason Dion and Glenn Sharpe along with senior Kevin McKay led and helped inspire the team, especially young runners such as Ian Hobson and Brendan Flynn into becoming the backbone of the team.

This being the second season under Coach Patch, his guidance on and off the track made this season the most memorable. Whether running repeat 400's or coaching the Middle School Cross Country team; we always had fun. Thanks to the great personalities of ideal teammates such as Ben Forrest, Bobby P., and the occasional comments of Kyle Ludwig, everyone on the team was a part of the fun.

Although the season is over, it will live on in our inside jokes and unforgettable stories. The season can not hardly be summarized in so few words, so all that is left is a fond farewell and wishes of good luck and good times next year to the captain elects Bobby Pailes and Bobby Phillips. Enjoy the experience, run long and hard.

When they came together at the beginning of the season, the team of nine had high hopes. With the experience of returning members, Lindsey Calderone, Christina Bonome, Katie Brunelle, Andrea McKim, and Cory Krozier, and the help of new members Kani Timm, Caitlin VanDeGiesen, Anna Harris, and Kate Micheli, we set our goals high. With a lot of hard work and dedication, we finished the season with a 5-3 Hockomock dual meet record. We also earned fourth place at the Hockomock League meet and sent Lindsey Calderone and Christina Bonome to the Hockomock League All-Star Team. After Hocks, we set our sights on bigger things. After taking home five individual medals at the State Coaches Invitational Meet, we were ready for the finale of our season, states. We finished the meet with a respectable ninth place, and had all five runners place among the top 100 finishers. Good luck to next years team and to captain-elect, Christina Bonome!

It Don't Mean a Thing... If It Ain't Got That Swing

New Beginning at the Links

By Chris Brousseau

It was a year of many changes for the 2001-2002 golf team. John DelBonis, a graduate of North Attleboro High School and former golf team member, took over the reigns of a very talented, yet young and inexperienced crew. He had a very difficult task ahead of him. Picking out the six starters proved to be a challenge, but the players showed him their enthusiasm in making a top spot. The competition was tight and new players as well as old wanted to show their skills.

The one thing we lacked was experience. Many of the players had never been in a varsity match and played courses they had never seen. This was a huge disadvantage and we were not a very strong visiting team, winning only two matches away from "The Val." The new stroke play format was our arch nemesis as we struggled to grasp it, losing two matches by only one stroke and losing one match by only three. We kept our spirits high as we worked towards our goal, qualifying for the State Tournament. Every match was different and we prepared with the help of our coach who encouraged us the whole way. He taught us not only about the game but also about sportsmanship and etiquette.

Despite all the high hopes, the team failed to qualify for the State Tournament with a record of five wins and 11 losses. It was far from a disappointment. We all learned so much about ourselves as well as golf. The season was capped with the first pumping of Mike Patty, the consistent play of Kevin McIsaac and Mike Barry, the mammoth drives and "drano power" of Justin (Gibby)

In the opening game of the season we suffered a huge loss to our cross-town rival Bishop Feehan. Not only did we lose the game, we lost our star running back Darren Nixon, too. Proving that the loss would not slow us down, the Rocketeers stepped up their level of play where it was needed and racked up two straight victories, including a 28-8 record-setting ground attack against Oliver Ames. In week four, however, North faced Stoughton with some key players injured. We lost our second and last game of the season by a score of 14-7. From week five on, Big Red was set on achieving what they had worked for all through high school, a Hockomock Championship. We won the rest of our games by a combined score of 214-33. These victories included a dominating 21-0 shutout of Foxboro High School and a solid 24-20 win against Mansfield High School which spoiled their Homecoming and undefeated season. Also, in the last six games, the Rocketeers tallied three shutouts, against Canton 47-0, Foxboro 21-0, and Franklin 41-0. Perhaps the most important game of the season was Thanksgiving. It was the last time the 2001 football seniors would play together as Red Rocketeers. The Big Red team made the most of it, defeating Attleboro 33-7. The Rocketeers closed out their memorable season knowing that Commitment Creates Champions.

Only the Strong Survive

By Katie LaFratta and Vicky Leco

The 2001 volleyball season began with high hopes but much uncertainty. With the loss of five talented seniors, we realized ourselves for a year of rebuilding. Having been undefeated Hock Champs for the past three years we had big shoes to fill. However, our motto, "Never give up, never give in, never let a piece of doubt slip in," helped us keep our focus and confidence up and continue our domination in the league.

Our biggest rival in the Hock, Franklin, put up a good fight in our house but fell short in the points as well as confidence as North easily defeated the Panthers. Unfortunately, after a strong fight we lost two very close games to one. Although no longer undefeated, we proudly accepted the title of Hock Champs. With a Hock record of 9-1, one of the best in the league, and an overall record of 12-8, we entered the tournament with great expectations. After playing one of our best matches, our loss to New Bedford ended our season.

We did not walk away from our season disappointed though, we did just the opposite. We walked away with unforgettable memories. Unbirthday parties, PC games, spaghetti dinners and trips to Jane and Paul's farm will forever bring a smile to our faces. We can't forget our fans who supported us home and away and told us to "Play tough, play tough, play tough, tough, tough!" With trailors and visualization we made our uncertain season a certain success. All the best of luck to Suzy and Elsbeth. Lead the way girls-it's your team now! We love you!

Big Shot

By Kyle Edwards and Adam Watkins

The boys basketball team had a tough season this winter. With only five seniors and all underclassmen we were a young team with little to no experience. We played tough North Attleboro basketball and we were in the face of every opponent. The seniors on the basketball team were great leaders and kept the spirits up of the other players throughout the season. We were unable to make the state tournament but it was a time to remember. The boys basketball team had a couple of quality wins against Stoughton and Sharon. We showed signs of being a tough team but were not able to do the same against the better teams in the league. But we gave it our best effort and that's what mattered in the end.

By Meg Kelley

The 2001-2002 girls basketball team began the season with a powerful start winning four of their first five games. The squad was very young, consisting of sophomores; Stephanie Schilling, Brooke Lenahan and Erin Cournoyer, juniors; Colleen Mahoney, Suzy Ward and Jen Deschenes, and seniors; Sara Munro, Jen Murphy and co-captains Kat Glynn and Meg Kelley. Through dedication the team overcame a mid season rut, requiring them to defeat Sharon, Attleboro, and Feehan to compete in the state tournament. Although they had already lost to Sharon earlier in the season, they came out on top defeating all three teams including EAC champions Bishop Feehan. Their first game at the Mass state tournament was against the talented #3 seeded Bridgewater-Raynham Trojans. The North girls "took it to da house" as the 14th seed devastating BR. Their next challenge was New Bedford. The girls played their hardest tying it up at halftime, but New Bedford was a stronger team. Although their season ended there, the girls had a great season and made memories that will last forever.

The 2001-2002 wrestling season was a year to remember. The team worked long and hard all season, but always left room for the humorous antics of senior Matt Bussiere (150 lbs) and sophomore Mike Kelley. The lineup constantly shifted throughout the year, which consisted of only four of last year's varsity starters. The much needed athleticism of Chris Forbush (112 lbs) and pretty boy Kevin McKay (171 lbs), who spent more time working on his tan than he did working on the mat, were included in this year's 14 man squad. North challenged the best teams MA had to offer and it paid off in the end as the Rocketeers earned its 6th straight Div. II South Sectional title led by team captains Tim Stuart (119 lbs), Shaun Vacher (140 lbs) and the rest of the gauntlet. The gauntlet, which proudly displayed their comradery by bleaching each other's hair, was made up of the seven state qualifiers who earned North a fourth place finish at the state tournament, while led by state finalists Tim Stuart, Matt Bussiere, Shaun Vacher, and 3rd place finisher Chris Vacher (145 lbs). Overall, the tradition of Big Red wrestling continues, and next year's team looks as anxious to continue the tradition.

The Hockomock League Coaches never mentioned the North Attleboro Girl's Track Team as a tough contender for the 2001-2002 season. Although he was working with the smallest number of girls in his coaching history and the sickness of one of the team's highest scorers, Amy Billings, Coach Feid never doubted the team's strength for a moment. The girls shocked the Hockomock League with a 6-2 record in the regular season and a second place at the Hockomock League Meet. The team, smaller and closer than before, surprised themselves as well. A dozen girls qualified for the state meet where Caitlin Hurley, Adrienne Acosta and the 4 by 200 relay qualified for All-States. Led by captains Meghan McKenna, Jane Casey, and Amy Billings the Rocketeers proved that North Attleboro track comes up strong.

USE THOSE ARMS Senior Jake LeBlanc uses all of his strength to win his race.

The 2001-2002 boys indoor track season marked the end of an era. Revealing early in the season of his plans of retirement, Coach Herber went through the steps one more time.

Fueled by a strong senior class and dedicated underclassmen, the Red Rocketeers looked to turn some heads. Thanks to the leadership of captain Kyle Levesque on the track and of the guidance of Jason Dion off the track, the team was united.

For another year the boys dominated in sprinting events. Thanks to junior Garrett Vandette, of the dash, junior Jamie Martin, of the 300m and senior Robby Dargis, of both. The boys could hop, throw and jump as well, gaining points from sensational hurdlers such as Marcus Vaughn, a group of smart shot-putters, and the soaring spirits at high jump. If ever in a pinch the team could always rely on Junior Bobby Phillips to do all three.

A great surprise came this season with the vast improvement of the boys "Distance Crew." The uprise of the "dynamic duo" of the 1000m and the never-ending effort of the mile and two milers gave the team some needed support. Along the way this season the team didn't always win, but we gave our all. The team would like to thank Rookie coaches Donnie Weedan and Ms. McGrail for their guidance. Personally we would like to congratulate the future captains of the 2002-2003 season, Jamie Martin and Bobby Pailles.

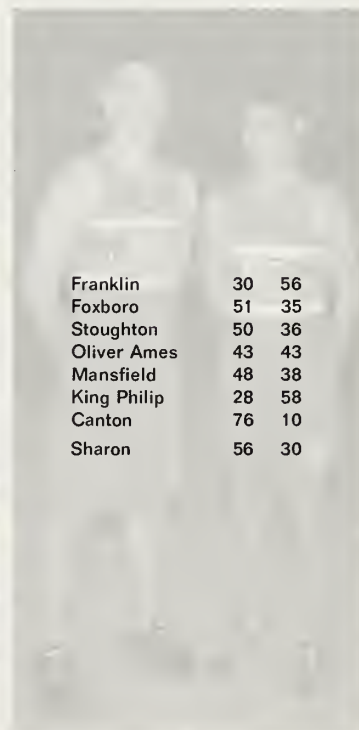

Lastly the senior class of 2002 would like to thank Coach Derek Herber for the years of success and comfort he has brought to the sport. Good Luck to him, as well as the rest of the team in all of their future endeavors.

This 2001-2002 gymnastics season proved to be a valuable learning experience for us all. We gained a lot of new talent this season making future years look very hopeful. Although we did experience many injuries, everyone remained dedicated and put in their best efforts. With no seniors this year everyone was asked to step up and give even more. And they did just that. Sophomore Amanda Lopes represented North Attleboro at the state meet, performing exceptionally well. We hope that next year will be even more successful.

Under the Sea

By Marissa Cerrone and Lauren Haughey

After much planning and support from the Athletic Department, Hockomock YMCA, devoted parents, dedicated swimmers and coaches, North Attleboro's dream of having a swim team became a reality on the first day of practice. We came in expecting to "get our feet wet" but actually ended up diving right in. It was smooth sailing from there on in, unless you count the ferry ride to Nantucket.

The 2001-2002 North Attleboro girls swim team had a successful inaugural season. Despite low expectations from other teams in the Bay Colony League, our girls proved they had what it took to overpower teams such as Blue Hills, Barnstable, and Oliver Ames. Being a first-year team, we relied upon the leadership of our three seniors: Marissa Cerrone, Danielle Achin, and Lauren Haughey. But without the cooperation and talent of the under-classmen, the season wouldn't have been as successful.

Traditions were started when we had a spaghetti dinner before our first big meet and continued throughout the season. Loading up on delicious pasta, bread and desserts gave us energy we needed to win.

After capturing third at the Bay Colony League Championship meet, and having several swimmers qualify for the state meet, North went home that night with a sense of pride and accomplishment, having finished the season 5-4 overall.

At the end of the season, the North Attleboro girls reflected upon pizza nights, sleepovers, spaghetti dinners, meets, bus rides and all the other good times we shared that all seemed to go by too fast. We wish the best of luck to next years team and would like to extend our gratitude to coaches Tim Kelley, Kim Swanson, and Doug Weldon for being so patient and understanding while working with us.

The boys' swim team had an impressive first season. With only nine members and no divers, they finished with a 10-0 record and captured the Bay Colony Conference Championship by over 100 points. En route to the championship, North defeated the Nantucket Whalers 91-89, dealing them their first loss in over three years. The boys continued to make their presence known throughout the championship season, finishing third at South Sectionals behind only Boston College High School and Bishop Feehan. At Division II State Championships, captain Bill Hedberg captured two events, leading the team to a 6th place finish. . . a great conclusion to the inaugural season.

Raise the Roof

By Ashley Nunes and Ashley Guba

To begin our season, we attended the UCA cheerleading camp at the College of Holy Cross. We learned new things, came together as a team and had some fun! As fundraisers we worked the concession stand at the annual Kids Day fair and held a successful car wash. As football season came around we decorated the players lockers and the senior hallway. The rallies showed our school's spirit and an unforgettable dance contest. We hosted the Hockomock Cheerleading Jamboree where we gave the rest of the league a taste of what was to come during the competition season. With our cheers and chants we left the crowd with spirit at every football game.

As the 2002 competition season began, we knew it would be difficult. We had new faces and many obstacles that had to be fought. We knew the work had to be done and we never gave up. With a second place finish at Warwick Vets, we were not giving up easy. The next few competitions were not easy but we passed and came out on top at the Milford Invitational. We finished the season with a Hockomock Championship and a South Sectional Regional championship. We performed well at the state competition and completed it with a third place finish in Division I. This year's team truly defined the meaning of teamwork and we wish the best of luck to the girls next year!

The North Attleboro High School baseball team concluded its 20 game season at 6-14, highlighted by victories over league leading Franklin and King Philip. Both games were night caps in front of a packed house at Community Field. At the end of the season North Attleboro had senior captain pitcher Ryan Padula elected to the All-Hockomock Team. To conclude the season the Rocketeers defeated North alumni 6-5 at Community Field. North grew game by game and showed signs of brilliance. They were a team no one wanted to play.

PUMP IT UP

By Mike Tower

The 2002 Boys Tennis team began the season with high hopes.

With Kurt Goding as our new coach and seniors Mike Tower and Nathan Loomis as captains, the team set out to conquer the Hockomock.

Mitchell Rose led the team at #1 singles and pulled off great victories against Ed Richardson and Ryan Wigdor. "Marathon Mike" Tower was very successful at the #2 singles and perpetually drove his matches into 3 sets, much to the chagrin of his teammates who were tired of watching him. Matt Sexton was solid as a rock at the #3 singles and losing only 1 match. Lance Llewellyn and Nate Loomis at #1 doubles won decisive matches against Foxboro and Franklin, giving the team the third win we needed to win the meet. Dave Kuma partnered up with both Luis Mendizabal and Mike Spillane at #2 doubles winning great matches against Stoughton and Franklin. The entire varsity team earned the chance to compete individually at the State Sectional Tournament. Mitchell Rose and the doubles team of Nate Loomis and Lance Llewellyn both won their first round matches and lost close second round matches.

With the inspirational coaching of Kurt Goding, the Boys Tennis team earned a berth in the Team State Tournament and showed the Hockomock what North Attleboro Rocketeer spirit is all about.

Hangin' Tough

By Caitlin O'Connor

The North Attleboro girls tennis team had big shoes to fill at the beginning of the 2002 season. There were at least 5 varsity spots to fill with a predominately young team. The success of the season was unclear to us but as we stepped out for our first match the team lead by co-captains Katie Effler and Caitlin O'Connor beat Foxboro 5-0. We knew we would have a great season. Filling the #1 singles was Junior Amy Zimmerman who stepped up and faced the challenge 2nd singles was Senior Katie Effler who played extremely well. Our 3rd singles was Junior Emily "Pink" Giannini, who rocked the 3rd singles position. Our #1 doubles team, Sophomore Marissa Parent and Alex Manoogian took on their position and had an amazing record meanwhile at the 2nd doubles Senior Caitlin O'Connor and Junior Kayla Hagan played incredible together as well. As the season's end nears the 2002 team were headed for the State Tournament and hoped to do well. Our new coach Geoff Burgess took on a challenge instead of coaching wrestling he faced coaching the girls tennis team and turned out to be an inspiring leader. A big thanks to Mr. Burgess and good luck to the 2003 captains and team.

Take Me Out to the Ballgame

By Pam Malatesta

It started to be a very promising year, with a veteran team including 5 seniors. Through the year there were great times and very interesting happenings. Though our record did not turn out to be exactly what we were hoping for but that in no way determined the worth of the season. We were a team. Every girl played for every other girl and we had a few disappointments but our share of successes. One of those successes being our win against Stoughton early in the season. It was a great year and leaves great promises for the years to come.

Take it to the Limit

By Kyle Levesque

The Boys Spring Track season was the beginning of a new tradition. This track team earned an undefeated record in the Hockomock League making them Hockomock Dual Meet Champions. The track team continued on down this path and successfully defended their status as Hockomock League Meet Champions. This was the first time in at least four year that team earned both these titles.

The success of the team was due to the efforts of many. Co-captains Rob Dargis and Kyle Levesque along with the help of other sprinters such as Jamie Martin, Jon Alves, Adam Watkins, Andy Plante and Darren Nixon dominated opponents with their speed. Co-captain Jay Dion led the distance team in spirit with his unique hairstyles. His unusual methods however proved successful and inspired performances by Kevin McKay, Matt Neale, Rich Cherewich, Bobby Pailles and Ian Hobson. Marcus Vaughn, Mark Hull, Joe Donovan, and Tom Pirri showed their strength in the hurdles, while Kyle Edwards, Bobby Phillips, and Lance Melvin dominated in their field events of shot put, high jump and long jump respectively. The most versatile player was Tim Stuart who provided his skill in races from the two mile down to the 100m dash. However the track team was much deeper than just these few individuals and its success was based largely on the efforts of all.

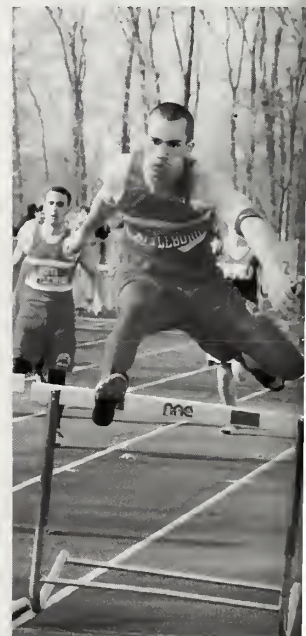

This year's seniors would like to thank coaches Herber, Feid, Espinosa, and Weeden for all the time and effort they put in to turn them around from a dismal freshman season to Undefeated Hockomock Champions their senior year. Under their coaching many successful seasons lie ahead for the Boys Spring Track team.

North Attleboro Girl's Spring Track blasted through the season undefeated until their very last meet against Foxboro. They beat town rivals Attleboro and Bishop Feehan as well as the indoor Hockomock League Champions Franklin by impressive margins. Every meet the girls managed to set new personal records and reach personal goals. Coaches Estey, Holster, McGrail and Espinoza formed the base of the team's leadership. They were assisted by captains Adrienne Acosta, Amy Billings, and Jane Casey. The team selected Jen Deschenes, Caitlin Hurley, and Andrea Schofield to lead them in the upcoming season. Good luck to the runners next year, may they continue to compete with the same pride and etiquette they were so well known for this year.

CLUBADEMICS

This year students had So Much to Say and so much to do. Whenever, wherever, these education enthusiasts had many extracurricular activities they were involved with. The universal thought seemed to be "It's My Life and I'm going to do everything I can." On top of balancing the loads of academic work teachers gave them, these Regulators were involved in everything from after school work to sports to clubs. The Youth of the Nation, well, at least the youth of North Attleboro made the most of Everyday and created yet another successful year from the many aspects of North High. As The Long and Winding Road ended and the beginning of the year became Blurry, students began to look back on all the ups and downs and came to realize that Wherever You Will Go the memories of your past and what you put into it will ultimately help to shape your future and what you get out of it.

Senior Sharks Defeat Junior Jets Yet Again

By Jocelyn Ormerod and Sam Rim

It was a sunny, brisk November 4th afternoon. The Senior Sharks were cool, calm and collected. The battle began at 1:00 PM on Raymond E. Beaupre field. The Junior Jets on the offense were quickly pummeled by the Senior Sharks. The battle ensued until halftime, both teams exhausted but not without hope. Beginning the third quarter, the Sharks returned the Jets' kickoff with a glorious touchdown. The third quarter was dominated by the Senior Sharks with a little help from Mr. Donovan's "statue of liberty" play. The Jets made a triumphant comeback in the fourth quarter but the relentless Senior Sharks would not give up. The Sharks, with 38 points, once again were victorious over the Jets, with 36 points. A valiant effort was put forth on the Jets' part, but the senior tradition prevailed for one more year.

North Spirits Have Never been Higher

Cheryl Wanless

There's no Homecoming like North Attleboro's Homecoming! Bright colors of red and white filled the air creating much anticipation and excitement. As the "Big Game" against King Philip High School grew closer, the school spirit rose to great heights. The great music, invigorating speeches, hysterical games of musical chairs and the talented routines from the cheerleaders were more than enough to get the gym filled with laughter and cheers for Big Red!

When the big day came, the class floats proudly sailed down the street after many hours of work. Although the Junior float won, the Seniors were not far behind.

The day was not as great however, for the boys of King Philip. They received a beating from the men of Big Red Country and the pride and recognition stayed home where it belonged...at North!

HEY THERE! Superb senior spirit is shown in the excellence of the senior float.

Daddy's Little Girl

By Vicky Leco

The annual Father-Daughter Dance, hosted by the Student Council proved to be once again another night of laughter and fun.

Although it was the girls who first took the floor, the fathers were not far behind. The daughters showed their dads how to "electric slide" as the dads in turn showed their daughters how to jitterbug.

As the night progressed the crowd was re-energized with finger sandwiches, salads and delicious, bite-sized desserts.

ALWAYS AND FOREVER Father and daughters sway to the music as they try to make the night last forever.

SMILE! Ally Bordonaro and her dad flash the camera a couple of big grins as they dance the night away.

Every father-daughter couple had a great time, however it was even more special for the senior girls who knew that this would be their last dance. During "Butterfly Kisses", the evenings closing song, a few tears could be seen trickling down cheeks as the fathers spun their "little girls" around, but not one face left the dance without a smile.

WHAT A GROUP! Vicky Leco, Erin Pellitier, Caitlin Shanley, Meg Meierdiercks, Susan LaHousse, Ally Bordonaro, Kate LaFratta and Elisha Campebell ditch their dads for a little sisterly love.

LET US SHOW YA HOW! Erin Gilmore and her dad show everyone how the dance is really done!

BALLERINA GIRL As the four year tradition ends, Vicky Leco wraps her arms around her dad at the end of their special night.

2002 Student Council Takes Charge of NAHS

By Ryan Rose

The 2001-2002 Student Council turned out to be successful after the loss of quality seniors from the previous years.

Working together, members from each class took responsibility in creating a better, more fun environment with a goal to make a difference for their school. However, all credit cannot be given to the Student Council. The school's participation and positive attitude, along with Ms. Caldwell's endless hours in preparation for events, helped create a successful year. In the beginning of the year, the President got together with the other Student Council presidents to gather ideas at the HULC conference. They were working together to unite, educate and support their groups. The Student Council also had fun in sponsoring two other annual activities, the Father- Daughter Da which students, community members teachers alike donated their time and bl to benefit their community.

With the year winding down, Student Council members remained dedicated thanking their teachers in "Teacher Appreciation Week" by coming up with several creative ideas.

The Student Council of 2001-2002, put time and effort, as members helped to enhance North's tradition of hard work, dedication and leadership while providing a way for students to get involved with the community and school.

Students raise money to walk for the March of Dimes

Alyssa Bordonaro

For the past four years, with the guidance of Alyssa Bordonaro, Melissa Crosby, Danielle Andrienas and Megan Meierdiercks, the March of Dimes team at NAHS managed to raise over $10,000. Through fundraisers such as the annual dance and car washes, the group has been able to raise enough money for travel and transportation. Even though it rained this year, it brought the teams spirit up. Changing from past years when millions of people walked this year where only 300 showed up never affected students from NAHS. They showed their support and once again proved to be successful and determined.

PEACE MAKERS Ms. Barbara Sahli, Ivory Laibson, Aaron Evans, Jim Young and Bridget Mulkerrins.

December 11th , a peaceful day despite the surrounding world.

By Bridget Mulkerrins

Due to the horrifying events of September 11 the annual "Day of Harmony" in Boston was cancelled. Instead schools were asked to hold their own "Day of Harmony" just three months after the nation's tragedy on December 11th, North High students as well as faculty, gathered in the gymnasium to participate in this event. Hosted by SCAR, the assembly included speeches and a skit on anti-racism and lent knowledge of different religions. The crowd listened to Muslim follower Barbara Sahli on her religion and culture and Jewish Sports writer Jim Young on his religion as well as discrimination he faces. Members of SCAR then performed a skit based on the premise that everyone is created equal and should be treated so. This day not only opened students' ears, but it opened their minds and hearts to new knowledge that may not be teachable in a classroom. With High emotions, this day offered North High a new perspective on how to react to what was happening in their world.

The Times They Are A Changin'

A Change in Year Brought A Change in SADD

By Caitlin Thompson

2002 marked a transition year for SADD. "Students Against Drunk Driving was changed to "Students Against Destructive Decisions." Because of this SADD was forced to change its agenda and focus slightly during meetings. Some things stayed the same, such as the tying of ribbons on cars at the half-time of a North football game. However, this year instead of just red ribbons SADD used Red, White and Blue to show pride for our country.

Teen dating violence, discrimination and teenager's rights were just a few of the topics discussed at meetings. SADD also worked with middle school students to try and keep them away from making destructive decisions.

Fundraising also changed for SADD, instead of the usual Fast Show, SADD was actively involved in the first ever "Mr. NAHS" pageant. This turned out to be a huge success for the senior class as well as SADD. Although some changes can produce negative outcomes the class of 2002 has made changes to SADD that will only make it stronger for future generations.

AND THE CONTESTANTS ARE... The Mr. NAHS billboard showing off the participating young men was a nice welcome to all those who attended.

LET ME TIE IT! Dave O'Brien, Bill Hedberg and Greg Pino show their support of America and SADD as they tie ribbons to cars.

Club Speaks Out in Own Way

Daria Grisanzio

This year Latin Club thrived with a membership of over fifty students. Students came from the fields of Latin and included perclassmen as well as upperclassmen. Latin Club started the year off by hosting a bake sale. The funds raised by the sale allowed for a Latin Club field trip to the Wakefield Middle School for Classics Day. Here the students enjoyed watching character actors portray Roman citizens in a theatrical presentation depicting Ancient Roman Life.

Latin Club also participated in two national exams this year. The National Latin exam, given in March, tested the students on grammar, sigret- translations, Roman culture and mythology. Medals and certificates were awarded to the highest scorers. The National Medusa Mythology Exam, given in April to eleven Latin Club Students, tested on Roman and Greek mythology. Students participating in the exam vie for the chance to win scholarships. Latin Club members experienced a year of learning not only the language, but also the culture of the Latin people.

The YMCA Leader's Club began the year by electing Nicole Roberge as Secretary, Roxanne Leinen as Treasurer, Hayley Cronin as Chaplin and Monique Roberge as Historian. The first group activity was the Red Woods, which was entirely run by all of the YMCA teen clubs. The rally was soon after, that held the theme "Putting the Pieces Together." The group finished the year by doing a holiday canned food drive that was held at Lenore's Pantry in mid-December. With the start of the new year, the club hosted an overnight event entitled "The Snow Ball," which included a semi-formal dance and all-night parties such as the "Wacky Winter Olympics", gym and swim, and a movie. After the Snow Ball was the winter rally with a "Construction Zone" theme. In the following months, the group continued to volunteer and raise with things such as the "Reach Out For Youth" phone-a-thon and the "From Cupid" Valentine's Day fundraiser. The group also held a drive for families in need and helped to run "Healthy Kids Day" at the A. In May, The group attended the spring rally entitled "The Wacky Wonderful World of Leaders." The club ended the school year with the annual "For Life" walk-a-thon and the Leaders banquet in June. Leaders school spirit is something to which everyone is looking forward.

Student Awareness Spreads Its Wings

By Vinny Zuffante

This year, the Student Awareness Club came together once again to make a difference in our community through volunteer work. We elected President Susan LaHousse, Vice-President Caitlin VanDeGiesen, Secretary Vinny Zuffante and Treasurer Tara Rose to help plan and run these activities. Members volunteered at local nursing homes, retirement communities, soup kitchens and libraries. We also held a successful game night at the High School with the Work Lab Students. Through hard work and determination, we proved that students could make a difference in their community.

Scar Helped Celebrate the Diversity at North High

By Alyssa Bordonaro and Danielle Andrienas

Due to the tragedies of 9/11 the annual Team Harmony event held in Boston was postponed.

Therefore, the Anti-Defamation League proclaimed December 11 a national Day of Remembrance that each school would take part in. SCAR stood up to the challenge by inviting multiple guest speakers and presenting patriotic videos. In addition, students were given the opportunity to share their personal experiences of 9/11. This year SCAR also continued to work on the Mural Project to inform every student in our town that North Attleboro does not tolerate discrimination of any kind. This was also the first year in which SCAR elected student officers to lead the activities.

The Galadriel Staff Shows off the Talent Housed in NAHS

By Maggie Versiackas, Chris Reasor and Val Hastings

North Attleboro High prides itself in their students many talents. Athletic teams hold games, the music department puts on concerts, the drama department puts on plays, etc. Galadriel is no different; it showcases students who have talents in writing and arts. Every year a staff of dedicated students collects, edits and designs a magazine for the school community to read and enjoy. The 2001-2002 school year was no exception. Galadriel put forth some of its best works this past year and is confident that the tradition will carry on throughout many more years.

Video Killed the Radio Star

By Lee Simmons

North Attleboro High School proudly presents "The Video Club" Produced and directed by President Lee Simmons and Vice President James Anderson. It features music videos, commercials, documentaries and much more.

The Video Club worked together this year to produce a monthly TV show, "Adventures in 100". The show presented different school events as well as parodies in film and TV. We included students from all groups to join us on the show. We wanted the audience to see the diversity here in North Attleboro High school and how all students are welcome in Room 100.

The leaders at North High break into three groups: those who help in all the gym classes and the two sets of students who help in the office, the Writing Lab, and TV studio. Without the help of our lab leaders projects would never be finished on time, programs would be a mystery to some students and Video equipment would be taping ceilings and floors instead of "the action."

This year Lee Simmons led the video leaders in a successful push to have every student in Basic Video camera ready in the first two weeks of each semester. Matt Neale, Nate Loomis and Jackie Corbett helped lead the Writing Lab, helping all different classes from the school. Without the help of our leaders many students would have become frustrated by the intricacies of computers and video equipment. Even the juniors, such as James Anderson, stepped up and proved that they too can be helpful leaders.

Picking Up and Passing on the Torch, Gym Leaders Leave Their Mark on NAHS

By Kyle Levesque

The 2001-2002 Physical Education Leaders picked up where last year's leaders left off. No matter what the sport, the leaders continued their tradition of dominating game play and handing off crushing losses to the underclassmen. The leaders then continued their jobs by showing them how winners should act, thus teaching them sportsmanship. When not taking part in the action, the leaders made sure all games ran smoothly by using their experience and wisdom to referee games and make equal teams. No task proved itself too difficult for this year's leaders to undertake.

Now as the year draws to an end the current leaders are passing on their great responsibilities to a new group who is willing to step it up, force underclassmen to work hard every class and ultimately become "Gym Class Heroes."

Leaders Show Us the Way

Kathleen Donnelly and Brent England

The 2001-2002 school year for the Peer Leaders was one to remember. Headed by seniors Meg Kelley and Kathleen Donnelly, as well as juniors Brent England and Lindsay, the year was very productive.

Started with the application process in which the advisors fully chose a new group of hard working and motivated students. The new leaders quickly started to make a difference in the community.

Employing their new leadership skills the Peer Leaders volunteered their time at an annual Madonna Manor Christmas Bazaar in which they helped with selling raffle tickets and various Christmas items. Next the Peer Leaders set out to influence the first grade students that were participating in the Great American Smoke-Out. There they assisted the students on a tour of the high school. They discussed with the students the various organizations, clubs and sports offered at the high school. The Peer leaders then collected "Pennies for Patients" which was a program designed to help leukemia patients by collecting spare change.

The Peer Leaders also worked with mentally challenged children on Saturday mornings, which was a program called "Playstation." This offered many opportunities to reach out and help make a difference in the community.

Finally, at the end of the year the Peer Leaders went to the middle school for Heritage Day where they talked to the students about "High school life." This discussion with the students helped to boost their confidence and self-esteem. With a big "Thanks" to our advisors Ms. Charette and Ms. Goyette, the 2001-2002 school year was a great success for the Peer Leaders.

The Sounds of Silence

By Nate Loomis

Last year, the popularity of the game of Chess grew exponentially. Students played in the backs of classrooms, in the cafeteria, and at home with friends. Three students- Dana Brown, Keith Svendsen and Nate Loomis- recognized the potential for a revival of the NAHS Chess Club.

Held every Thursday night from 6- 8 pm in Mr. Donovan's room, the Chess Club soon blossomed into an all-out weekly war among chess-loving students. The new advisors to the club, Mr. Hanold and Mr. Cavedon, helped the club thrive, providing strategy tips, published games, and, of course, healthy competition.

At the end of the year, the weekly student participation rate hovered close to fifteen, and some bitter rivalries inevitably arose. As the new NAHS Chess Club enters its second year of existence, the leadership and advisory positions remain undetermined. However, thanks to the support and guidance of our advisors and all its members, the NAHS Chess Club will surely remain a prominent, popular extracurricular activity at North.

The Math League met once a month to participate in a test of mathematical reasoning. With the help of our new advisor, Mrs. Burke, the math League membership radically grew this year. With protractors in hand, calculators in pocket and derivatives on the brain, students showed up for the first exam in the fall. Unable to accompany the seemingly endless stream of students in one classroom, for the first time ever, two classrooms were needed to accommodate the mathematical intellectuals. Nothing could FOIL their genius efforts. Fearing competition from no school in the area, the thorough thinkers put their best #2 pencils to work. These stellar scholars proved they were top notch math brains as the school undyingly rallied behind. The leadership of many talented veteran seniors allowed for the competition to be left in the eraser dust. Although the seniors knew they would be sorely missed by the rest of the members, all equations seem to be positive for another triumphant season next year.

Special Olympians once again show tremendous talent as well as remarkable spirit

By Vicky Leco

The work lab and BICO programs joined together once again this year to compete in the Special Olympics held at Attleboro High School. With the sun shining and faces smiling, it proved to be a memorable day. Members of the National Honor Society were there to assist and cheer on the athletes. The athletes participated in such events as the softball toss and the 10 meter run. The field was filled with many talented athletes, but it seemed as though North brought the toughest competitors. The day ended with many medals, but maybe most importantly, many happy faces.

The 2001-2002 season of the North Attleboro High School Theatrical Company started out with a bang as the fall production of The Marriage of Bette and Boo, by Christopher Durang, went off without a hitch. With the outstanding acting skills of Chuck Lafond and Rita Rahl, the fantastic tech talents of Jill Nelson and TJ Hanson, the show was a big success.

The Winter One-Acts soon came along with one of the biggest audition turn out to date. Nearly everyone got a part in one of the three plays: The Epic of the Crunchy Zesty Snack, written and directed by Alan Clavette, The Day the President Called and Called..., directed by Crystal Steliga and Heather Snider and Corbin, written by Chuck LaFond and directed by TJ Hanson. When the big night came along the top honors went to Chuck LaFond and Ashley Root for best Actors and Corbin for best play.

The last show of the season, the Spring Musical, Smile, was one to remember. With wonderful talent, Ashley Root, Jillian Lazzaro and Bill Fleming sang and danced their way into our hearts. For many this show marked a tearful good-bye. Josh Bouchard and Jill Nelson stage-managed their last show and Ivory Laibson, Andrea Bellissimo and Laura Lee Labonte had their final bows. The small rock combo in the pit hit their notes beautifully and everyone partied down at the final cast party of the year. All in all, the year was one filled with joy and laughter and also pain and tears. It was another outstanding year of tradition and great theatre for the NAHS drama club.

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE?! Alan Clavette tries to rescue the "bundle of joy" in "The Marriage of Bette and Boo." (top picture)

LOOK WHAT I FOUND! Diane Saunders seems to have located Bill Fleming amidst the heaps of costumes.

What was a highlight for you during drama in the past four years?

"A play that I wrote 3 years ago won Best Play this year. I didn't think it could happen and I was ecstatic that people really enjoyed it."
-Chuck Lafond

"Since 'Into the Woods' was Ms. Cobb's last play, everyone worked really hard and the show was amazing."
-Jill Nelson

"Directing a One Act that won best actor and best play both nights was an amazing experience."
-TJ Hanson

"Working in 'Smile' was a highlight because it was challenging and rewarding learning all the dances."
-Rachael Herpel

I've Got Rhythm

NAHS Music Department once again proves they have what it takes.

By Rebecca Smith and Christopher Brousseau

The school year of 2001-2002 was truly inspirational one with seven performing ensembles this year, including Concert Band, Chorus, Jazz Band, Jazz Choir, Marching Band, Concert Choir and Winter Guard. Mr. Gorman and the new Chorus director, Mrs. Eichorn had their hands full.

Concert Band kept the destructive volcano theme from last year by performing "Mazama," which was chosen to be played at graduation. At the Spring Concert, a great many songs were performed such as "National Emblem," "John Williams: The Symphonic Marches; a collection of The Raiders March," "Star Wars Theme," "Olympic Fanfare," and "Africa: Ceremony, Song, and Ritual."

Chorus heated up the winter season and Winter Concert with Kirby Shaw's version of "Baby It's Cold Outside," choreographed by Laura-Lee Labonte and Mrs. Eichhorn. Chorus and Concert Band warmed many hearts with "When You Believe" from Disney's Prince of Egypt. Also on the repertoire for this concert was "Festival Processional," "Carol of the Bells," and "Durme, Durme." The Spring Concert was just as spectacular if not more than the Winter Concert, singing "Seize the Day," "Send in the Clowns," "Benedictus," and "Here Comes the Sun."

At the Winter Concert, Jazz Band took the audience for a ride on both sides of the tempo spectrum playing the extremely slow "Nothing Good Happens Fast" then moving to the upbeat "Lazy River." At the Spring Concert, this ensemble delighted the audience with "A Salute to Glenn Miller II," "Land Of Make Believe," "Fly Me to the Moon," and "Rock This Town."

Jazz Choir dazzled the audience with "How High the Moon" and "Ray's Rockhouse." Jazz Choir became a big attraction in performance.

Drum Major Alan Clavette lead the Marching Band in Jazz drill charts. They played a field show of Latin and swing numbers including, "Sing, Sing, Sing," "In the Mood," and a song that years Jazz Band made a favorite, "Channel One Suite."

Concert Choir, singing mostly a cappella, performed different styles of music. The use of kazoos in "Good King Looked Out," made it a hit, while songs like "Shim Sham Shim" and "From a Distance" also became popular.

Winter Guard, under the direction of Mrs. Gorman, traveled to New England and placed first in every competition and first in novice division for the N.E.S.B.A. finals. Back home, they performed "Land of Make Believe" with the Jazz band at the Spring Concert.

Although this year was inspirational and eventful, the music department always becomes better and next year will be no exception.

NHS continues their strong leadership in school as well as in the community

By Nathan Loomis

The North Attleboro Chapter of the National Honor Society enjoyed many welcomed changes in management and participation in 2002. New advisors, new administration, and new student officers all contributed to the pursuits and successes of the dynamic group. Through hard work and much effort, this year's seniors allowed the annual Craft Fair to run smoothly and successfully. After the fair, the Honor Society began its next endeavor: the Holiday Food Drive. After many dedicated trips to various homerooms, students collected enough cans to overwhelm the town's Food Pantry and successfully aid hungry families.

In early February, twelve new seniors and thirty-two juniors were inducted, bringing the total number of Honor Society Students up to seventy-eight. The Honor Society's large numbers and dedicated student population promise a glorious future.

Finally, in early May, the Honor Society participated in the Special Olympics. It served as a symbol of unity and closure among all members. As the seniors leave and the juniors vie for leadership positions, the Honor Society secures a prominent place in student life and in the community in the years to come.

The Honor Society would like to thank its previous advisors Mrs. Heile and Mrs. Benson for their dedication and guidance. Through their leadership, the Honor Society has built up a strong foundation for future endeavors.

HEARD ANY GOOD JOKES LATELY? As the line of hungry people dwindles down at the concession stand, seniors Matt Neale and Andrea Bellissimo think of something to talk about.

Rocket Corner Has Had Another Great Year of Sales and Promotional Discounts

By Brittany Weeman

Rocket Corner had another very successful year with the help of Mrs. Moon and Mrs. Hogan. The store offered many different types of merchandise. It carried Champion clothing with the North logo printed on them. Rocket Corner also carried the different school supplies students needed throughout the school year.

The special sales and discounts attracted many students to the store. There was a T-shirt closeout sale, which drew much attention. Rocket Corner also held its 5th annual Mystery Discount Days on Fridays in February. A thank you goes out to all of the students and staff who helped Rocket Corner have a wonderful year.

Desk Top Publishing Helps to Keep NAHS Aware of Activ

By Brittany Weeman

If anyone has walked the halls of North High, one would most likely see the creative advertisements for the school store, Rocket Corner. Desktop Publishing, which is taught by Mrs. Hogan, has had the 2001-2002 Computer Application students working hard all year on these advertisements. In many ways someone could say that they have created an advertisement company of their own. These same students type the seniors' information for the yearbook.

They have also created and designed tickets for the dances at our middle school. Designs were submitted for the Informal Class Day programs and the Formal Class Night programs. Each class also published their own newsletter and a joint effort Christmas cookbook. In addition, the students have also produced, designed and published many other projects and advertisements that have been posted in North Attleboro High School.

Love of Science Brings Students Together

By Justin Kwan

The Science Club started the year with its annual microbiology workshop. Attendees learned the basic techniques of growing bacteria. Members sold candy at each football game to raise money for the club. The Club uses its money for field trips, buying equipment for science fair students, science fair awards and buying equipment for elementary children.

Members of the Club visited Mrs. Sullivan's fifth grade class at Martin School. They performed various experiments for the fifth graders to demonstrate different principles of science. Some of their experiments included invisible ink, color changing liquids and expanding foam.

A few members of the club assisted the judges at the High School science fair. They prepared their food and registered the judges when they entered. The club also chose an award recipient, adhering to the high standards of excellence set forth by the club advisor, Mr. Vito.

The Middle School teachers invited the Science Club to help judge their science fair. The Middle School graciously provided breakfast and lunch for the judges.

Blinded Me With Science

Discovery Through Science Fair

By Justin Kwan

A group of extremely talented students have proved their mettle in at many fierce science fairs this year. Many of the top participants start their projects in September or even the summer and work in real labs under the guidance of a mentor. This year shows the continuing success of the high school's science fair program.

Students scramble to complete their projects before the school science fair. Some students are veterans while others have never competed in a fair before. The top 18 scorers earn the privilege of attending the regional science fair.

The regional science fair, held at Bristol Community College, serves as one of the most important competitions to the students. The two highest scorers of this fair will compete in the International Science and Engineering Fair. Sophomore Mason Hedberg earned the top score at the regional fair and Freshman Shariar Khan received the second highest. However, since both students came from the same school, Shariar could not go directly to the international fair. Instead, Mason successfully wowed the judges at the runoff, allowing Shariar to participate in the international fair as well.

The students who competed at the state fair also earned many awards through their hard work and dedication.

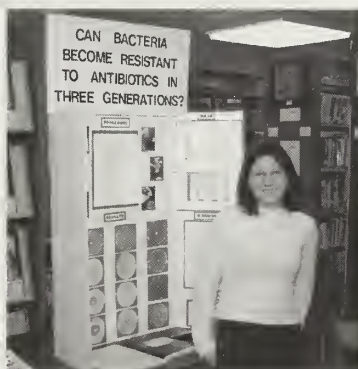

In Louisville, Kentucky, Mason and Shariar tested their science acumen against some of the world's best projects. Mason received a 4th place and Shariar received a 3rd place. Securing "a place" remains very difficult in this extremely competitive fair. Mason and Shariar should be commended for their extra hard work. All the science fair participants deserve recognition, as they allow North Attleborough to have the highest scoring projects in the state.

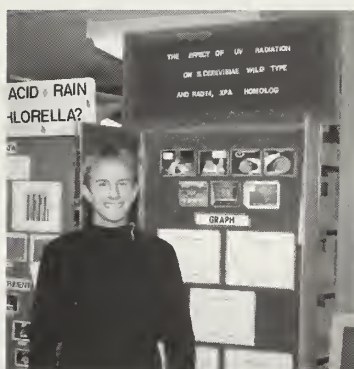

INTERNATIONAL QUALITY Mason stands in front of his project at the National Science and Engineering Fair in Louisville, Kentucky.

Sittin' On Top of the World

Tuesday, May 14th the entire student body filled the Kenneth Pickering Gymnasium for the student awards assembly. Numerous academic "firsts" were highlighted. The class of 2002 valedictorian was Justin Kwan while number two in the class, Salutatorian, was earned by Jane Casey.

A few of the big winners that day were: Excellence in Franch, Jennifer Slechta, Excellence in Spanish, Valerie Hastings, Excellence in Latin, Meghan Elliot, Excellence in U.S. History I, Meghan Barry, Excellence in Art, Tara Rose, Excellence in Drawing, Tara Rose, Excellence in Painting, Scott Landry, Excellence in Graphic Design, Kelly Bowker, Excellence in Sculpture, Meredith Jannelle, Excellence in Ceramics, Michael Marwitz and Excellence in Photography, Kirsti Itameri-Kinter.

The outstanding Senior Math Student was given to Jane Casey, while the prestigious Science Award, the Bausch & Lomb Science Award as well as the Rensselaer Medal Certificate for Math/Science went to Valerie Hastings. This year, the Harvard Book award was presented by Mr. Gay to Jenna St. Pierre. This award is sponsored each year by Dr. D.E. Leco. Nera-Lee Patel received the Smith Book award and Jane Casey was given the DAR Good Citizen Award. The University of Rochester Humanities Award went to Junior Emily Giannini and the University of Massachusetts at Dartmouth Book Award was given to Amy Zimmerman.

Finally, Nate Loomis, President of the National Honor Society read off all the names of students who received highest honors at least once this school year.

Yearbook staff puts in long, hard hours to create an outstanding book of memories for the class of 20

By Vicky Leco

The 2002 yearbook staff started out the year anxiously ready to create a masterpiece. This particular year was a transitional one for the Northern Light. In past years layouts were all done by hand and staff members had to sort through piles and piles of pictures, however this year almost all layouts were done on computer and although there still were piles of pictures, most of them were digital so all it took to sort through was a point and click. It wasn't all easy though! For those of us who weren't overly computer literate, it was very trying at times. Sports editor Caitlin VanDeGiesen, Clubademics editor Vicky Leco, Senior editor Cheryl Wanless, Advertisement editor Daria Grisanzio and Underclassmen editor Christina Bennoch, all learned a great deal with the help and expertise of our Computer editor Justin Kwan. After many hours of hard work, the book was finally complete. We are all proud to have been a part of the creation of yet another Northern Light that will hold memories for a lifetime to come. The staff would like to thank our advisor Mrs. Lush, Mrs. Hogan and her students, and Dan Smith from Jostens for all their help and patience.

SENIORS ARE HOTT

SENIORS

In the fall, the Class of 2002 took over the senior hallway with a song in their hearts. Along with the rest of our nation, we were shocked by the events of September 11th. Beat by beat, we came together as a class, with much pride for our country. As we sang the blues about SAT's and numerous college applications, the year flew by. Our unique activities and strong points made us like a decorated orchestra. We found ourselves full of sentimental thoughts at the senior prom and graduation events. With bright solos to be sung ahead of us we began to let go. Our bonds and memories made us realize that graduation day was "gonna come too soon."

The 2002 Senior Prom will never be forgotten. On April 16, 2002, the senior class enjoyed their last formal dancer together. The prom was held at Rhodes on the Pawtuxet in Cranston, Rhode Island. It was beautifully decorated with a "Starry Night" theme. The hours were filled with laughing, dancing, and wonderful memories. To pick our court this year, we decided to have the wait staff choose. The Rhodes' staff made excellent choices. The court, led by Queen Kirsti Itameri-Kinter and King Matthew Bussiere, danced to the theme song "Here's to the Night," by Eve 6. The rest of the night flew by, but we will remember it forever.

Memories

A Day of Music and Fun!

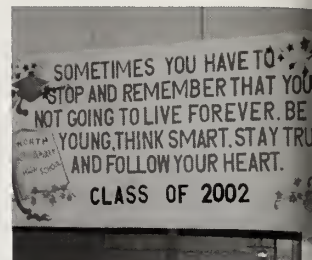

By Cheryl Wanless

With pride and joy, the Class of 2002 entered Class Day with smiling faces. We enjoyed the music of our school band and chorus as we marched into the gymnasium. We laughed heartily at our Class History and cheered Mr. Donovan and Mr. Cabrall on awhen the yearbook was dedicated to them. Memories filled our minds as we listened to the Class Will and the Senior Slideshow amazed us. With a song in our hearts, we left class day for graduation.

My Hometown

A Night to Recognize Academic Excellence

By Cheryl Wanless

As proud family, friends, and teachers watched, the Class of 2002 gracefully entered the gymnasium in a more formal manner. We enjoyed four wonderful essays by Courtney Brassard, John Meschisen, Maryam Shareef, and Nathan Loomis. Mr. Gay then recognized students that had made the Honor Roll all four years of their high school career. The President's Education Awards were also given. The chorus impressed us when they sang "When You Believe." The Honor Society Gift was presented as well as the Crockett Award and the Athletic Cups. The Yearbook dedication was also announced and Mr. Donovan dazzled us with his speech. Mr. Cabrall was unable to attend. The Class of 2002 happily left the gymnasium eager to graduate.

A New Day Has Come

The Class of 2002 Says Goodbye

By Cheryl Wanless

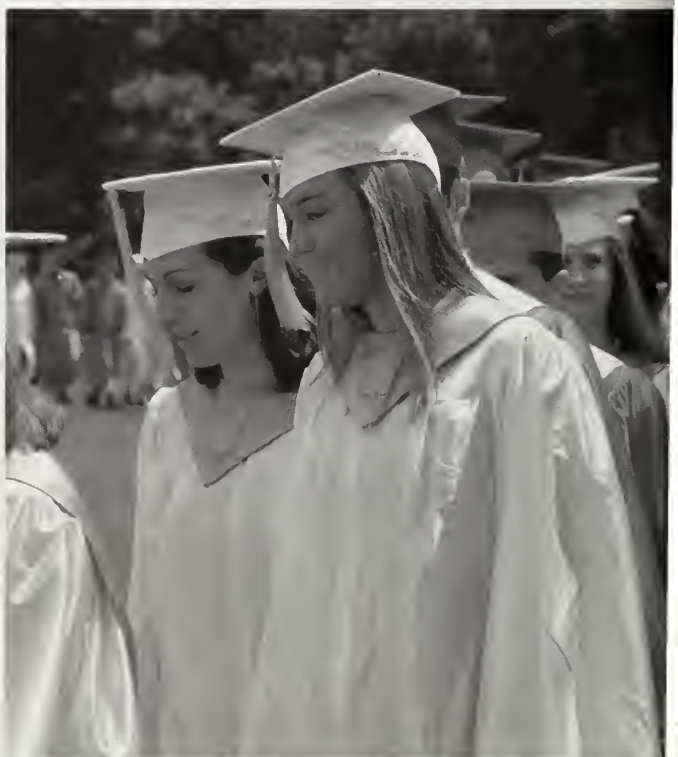

After four years the day finally came. As we closed one chapter of our lives we were about to begin a completely new one. On June 2, 2002, the emotions were mixed. Part of us was happy to move on, but the other part was reluctant to let go. It was the last time our whole class would be together, and some of us would never see each other again. Salutatorian Jane Casey spoke of vivid memories that lead her to graduation. Valedictorian Justin Kwan spoke of the truth. With so much behind us, we still had so much ahead of us at the same time. We left with a sweet song in our hearts as we moved our tassels and began our new journeys in life.

IT'S A BEAUTIFUL DAY (above) Senior Class Officers Caitlin Van De Giesen, Tim Stuart, Cheryl Wanless, and Caitlin Thomsen lead the class in the procession.

Up Where We Belong

Mr. Donovan

Our second dedication goes to a man who is certainly known by everyone in this school. His stories, jokes and desire to "be a real man" keep us laughing. This man uses his military tactics and experience in the classroom to attract the attention of the students. His determination to make learning fun never ends.

He enjoys his job as a teacher, which he makes clear every morning when he happily bounces into the classroom. His sharp well-backed political views have helped his students develop an interest in the government. No one can forget his encouraging words before a test which include, "This is a definite failure... I'm sorry about this one... You don't stand a chance."

From history bees to the funniest of stories, he ranks high with his history students. Well deserving of this award, his unforgettable character will never be forgotten. Maybe one day he will pronounce our names right when calling off attendance during study. Thank you for the good times Mr. Donovan.

ACCEPTING AWARDS

Mr. Cabral and Mr. Donovan, two outstanding teachers, are the recipients of the 2002 Northern Light Yearbook Award.

Mr. Cabral

This year our dedication is twofold. In other words, the senior class has two people it wishes to honor with the dedication of the 2002 Northern Light Yearbook. Our first gentleman is not only a great math teacher but may be more importantly, a friend to all. Whether you have him in class or whether you only see him in the halls, you always feel comfortable around him.

Not only do his teaching skills make him great, but his humor and warm smile make him even greater. It seems that as every holiday comes around, so does his candy, which he passes out to all his students, or sometimes even pencils. He is always willing to lend a helping hand whether it is a difficult math problem or it is carrying a chair for you in the cafeteria. He is always there, and he does it with a smile.

We are so pleased he is out of retirement in Rhode Island to spend these three special years with us, and we always treasure our time with Mr. Victor Cabral.

Candle In The Wind

On May 7, 2002, the television studio at North Attleboro High School was dedicated to the memory of Jimmy Gilmore. He spent four years at North, but three of those were spent exclusively in the control room of Channel 9. His family will remember him as a loving son and great big brother; his community will remember him as an Eagle Scout willing to contribute his time and talent; but North will remember him as the Class of 2000's Video Award Winner.

YOUR FOOTSTEPS WILL ALWAYS FALL HERE Erin Gilmore, Senior, and Steve Gilmore, Freshman pose with their family and Mr. Gay at the dedication of the studio.

June 6th our BICO program held a wonderful celebration in the North High Cobb Theatre. Mrs. Cindy Williams hosted the graduation of a group of young people who are a special part of the North High Community.

Thursday June 13 North Attleboro was awarded the 14th Annual Global Educator of the Year Award in a ceremony held at the State House. The Global Studies Program at Clark University presented North with this award for our collaborative project, "A Look at China and Japan". Mrs. Lush, Ms. Baker, Mr. Elwood, Mr. and Mrs. Fritchey, Mr. Nadel, Ms. Wilkerson, Ms. Heile, Ms. Palenchar and Mr. Gay made the trip into Boston to receive this great honor.

THIS TORCH WE'LL ALWAYS CARRY Mrs. Heile, Ms. Palenchar and Mr. Gay pose at the State House.

North hosts the 2002 American Cancer Society Relay For Life for the 4th straight year, and the clouds and rain moved out just in time to make this annual event an enormous success.

"You called out to our country,
And you whispered to those in pain.
Now you belong to heaven,
And the Stars spell out your name."

"Sometimes you have to stop and forever. Be young, think smart, stay true" remember you're not going to live and follow your heart." -Unknown

2002 Class Will

Adrienne Acosta: Raspberries and twisted nights to the three amigos. Jess - confessionals from your rock. Zac - best of luck as a gourmet chef.

Jonathan Alves: To my boys - good times and long trips to Connecticut.

Here's to the

Here's to the tears

Here's to g

Tomorrow's gonna

ights we felt alive

ou knew you'd cry

come too soon

to goodbye
